

THE ART STARTER

We have a new idea and we'd love your help!

We understand that it's tricky for remote school children to visit the collection. They often miss out due to distance or expense. So what we want to do is send a box of our catalogues to their school libraries. We are hoping this will give them access to their national collection, enable them to feel part of the broader story and perhaps see an art book for the first time in their life!

Any amount that you are able to generously donate will go directly into helping us cover the cost of postage.

We're hoping this approach will be a real Art Starter!
